

CUSTOM FEATURED BUILDING: The Braselton Medical Center– 12,000 square feet

This extra large medical clinic is located in a busy Atlanta suburb in Northeast Georgia. The hospital-owned health clinic originally was built with 7,000 square feet. A few years later Rose Office Systems was contacted again to build a modular expansion with an additional 5,000 when their day-to-day operations surpassed the original capacity. The new building joined seamlessly beside the existing building without even disrupting the staff working next door.

This beautiful modular building features an overhanging roofline and rock “columns” on each corner for an attractive rustic look that blends well in the scenic mountains of North Georgia. The site installed drive-through awning was added by the customer but really adds an impressive entryway and offers protection from the elements for clients.
